

Allegheny County Housing Authority Wins NAHRO Awards of Excellence

Congratulations to Allegheny County Housing Authority (ACHA) Executive Director Frank Aggazio and his dedicated staff for capturing two of the 20 National Awards of Excellence selected from 90 nominated entries this year.

The NAHRO Awards of Excellence program was created to give national recognition to NAHRO housing and community development member organizations that have found innovative ways of making a difference in the communities and the lives of the people they serve. ACHA programs chosen to receive this honor are:

- Recruitment of Landlords to House Homeless Veterans – which also was awarded PAHRA’s highest honor as recipient of the 2015 Bellamy Award; and
- Job Training & Section 3 Program

“The NAHRO Awards of Excellence Program notifies the public of the virtuous work that NAHRO member organizations do for their residents and community. The award recognizes the innovative housing and community development projects, programs, and services that member organizations provide to make a difference in the lives they serve,” said NAHRO President Steve Merritt.

ACHA has certainly earned this recognition by continuously striving to provide excellent programs and services through their innovative ideas and entrepreneurial approaches to issues facing housing authorities and those that they serve.
